IN MEMORIAM

In memory of my dear aunt, Lizzie M. Cyrus, who passed away one year ago, July 27, 1958.

Dear Lizzie, you are gone but not forgotten,
Never will your memory fade;
To me, the best of aunts you will always be,
All through life you always meant so much to me.
Because we were just as close as a mother and son could be,
You were so sweet, kind, loving and true,
Who could have been a better or more precious aunt than you.
Beyond the gate you've journeyed, To that land of peace and rest;
And though my heart still aches for you,
Our loving God knows best.

Travel Business Is Now at It's Peak Period

A survey of local business places catering to and benefitting by the travel business, indicates that the peak period of the year is now at its crest. Out-of-state cars are pouring through Virginia, and many of them are finding their way to visit historic Appomattox. A spot check by The Times-Virginian at Old Appomattox Court House this week, found cars bearing licenses from California, Iowa, Montana and many other distant states.

Service station proprietors are good judges of the travel situation. One local operator informed this newspaper this week that he was having his best period as to out-of-state cars, and that this was reflected in the number of "courtesy cards" he was handing. The same operator noted that the people in the out-of-state cars are showing interest in "seeing what there is to see" in Appomattox, rather than merely getting a gas refill and pass on to riding the highways.

At a local restaurant last Saturday, the "standing room only" situation developed, when a chartered bus load of travelers stopped to eat. This was only one incident, and for only one meal, but the thing that is going on, is that a great mass of people are on the highways, touring America, and more and more of them are coming by Appomattox and on top of that, more and more of them are no longer in a hurry, but are willing to stop over for a "look-see."

The famed McLean House at Old Appomattox Court House is now open seven days a week, 9 to 5, during the peak travel season. Attendance has been excellent in recent weeks. The register book at the restored Old Tavern Building has reflected a wide variety of home localities for the visitors. It is hardly likely that the attendance figure this year will pass the 100,000 mark, but it will approach that desired total.

Meanwhile, the potential of the tourist business in Appomattox is growing in the brass-tacks of practical evidence. A few days ago, a leading travel expert and authority in Virginia, visited Appomattox. He compared the Appomattox tourist potential as being as good or better than Gettysburg. He stated to the writer, that Appomattox should be prepared to fill 250 to 300 motor court rooms nightly during the approaching Centennial Years, provided the proper local spadework was done, including local events all during the period beginning late in 1960 and continuing through 1965.

This travel business authority stated that Appomattox should take immediate steps to get its share of the Centennial flow of traffic, and should go all-out to share in the vast sums of money history-minded visitors will leave in Virginia starting a short year away. "Give them something to see, something to do and provide modern accomodations, and you are all set," he said. He suggested the need of travel folders telling the Appomattox Story, to be available by the hundreds of thousands along the pathways tourists take. He also pointed to the need for billboards on nearby intersections with major tourists routes. These and other promotions could easily lift the travel business into the top spot here, ahead of all other sources of local income.

But, as for the immediate, the flow of traffic is at its seasonal peak and it is unusual to see cars in and around Appomattox from many distant places. They stop here to see where modern America was born, and where their ancestors made a "gentleman's peace."

Material Is On Order For New School Lights

It was announced this week that all of the material has been ordered for the installation of the lights at the new ball park on the Appomattox High School playground area. The committee now needs contribution of money to pay for the material, and the public is asked to make liberal donations. Those who have not been contacted, and who wish to help their school and community athletic program, may make contributions by sending same to the Appomattox Lions Club. The committee and local citizens feel that this is a very worthy project, and hopes for general support. Construction is expected to start within the next two weeks, and it is believed that the field will be ready for the opening of the forthcoming football season. Invitations are also out to any who are willing to help with the construction work.

CRAWFORD CARSON DIES IN CALIFORNIA

Crawford H. Carson, 51, a Prospect native and FBI agent, died on Wednesday, July 29, at San Francisco, California. He was 51.

He was the son of Ernest H. Carson of Appomattox, and the late Emma Drinkard Carson. He graduated at the Prospect High School, received his BA degree at Hampden-Sydney College in 1930. He graduated at the Duke University Law School in 1933.

Connected with the Federal Bureau of Investigation for 26 years, he had served as agent in charge of FBI offices at Miami, Atlanta and Baltimore, Due to reasons of health, he last served as assistant agent in charge at San Francisco.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Gerry Hendricks Carson, and three sisters, and seven brothers, Mrs .Nelson Hix, of Prospect; Mrs. J. F. Alsop, of Corpus Christi, Texas; Mrs. Lester Nuckols, Dillwyn; James A. Carson, Appomattox; R. D. Carson, of Samford, N. C.; Ural C. Carson, of Farmville; Woodrow and Charlie Carson, of Prospect, Crote D. Carson, of Richmond, and Elantha Carson, of Covington.

He was a lifelong member of the Walker's Presbyterian Church, at Hixburg.

Funeral services were held Sunday at Prospect Methodist Church at 2 P. M., with interment in the church cemetery.

ANNUAL TOURNAMENT AT NATURAL CHIMNEYS

Changing times do not alter an age-old tradition at Natural Chimneys, Mt. Solon, Va. On Saturday, August 15, (the third Saturday, as usual) "Knights" will ride again in the 138th Annual Jousting Tournament. This historic and colorful event, a sport older than baseball or the Kentucky Derby, has for some years been sponsored by the Collins-Hughes V F W Post of Mt .Solon.

The real origin of jousting goes back to feudal days and many gave their lives in the course of it's perpetuation. The death of Henry II, of France in 1559 caused the banning of it by Church authorities.

This once deadly sport is now enjoyed in a humanized form annually, at Natural Chimneys, with no less interest than in days of old. Retaining procedures and customs of the ancient sport it is enjoyed each year by ever increasing multitudes. The jousting at Mount Solon is conducted under a well-established ritual. After the stirrup cups have been downed, the first of the riders is given the age-old command by the tournament marshal and makes his first "pass" over the 75-yard course. He must traverse it in eight seconds and, en route, he endeavors to spear three steel rings, suspended from cross-bars at regular intervals along the course. Each rider makes three such passes, for a possible total of nine rings, in the preliminary heats. For the finals, rings of one-inch diameter are substituted for the two-inch rings used in the elimination heats.

There will be an afternoon contest at 2:30 and the night event at 8:00.

Board Expects Normal School Enrollment

The Appomattox County School Board is expecting a normal enrollment of pupils for the approaching session of public schools. The Board has no plans for any abnormal increase or decrease in enrollment.

However, the Board has not as yet completed filling the teacher ranks, and in a regular meeting on Wednesday was faced with the task of filling a number of vacancies before opening date. Each year there is a normal turn-over in teachers returning, and the problem for the new session is not considered alarming. The final placing of teachers is expected to be worked out within a safe period before school opening in early September.

TAKE A GOOD LOOK AT WIRING SYSTEMS

Do you often have to replace a fuse in your electric wiring system? Are you limited in the number of appliances you can use at one time without blowing a fuse? Have you installed fuses of larger capacity to eliminate the fuse-blowing problem?

J. L .Calhoun, associate agricultural engineer at VPI, says if the answer is "Yes," to any of these questions, you'd better take a look at your wiring system. The system may be inadequate, or perhaps some safety rules are being ignored.

Wiring system circuits are protected by fuses or by circuit breakers, both of which are safety devices, Calhoun explains. When too much electricity flows in the circuit, they cut off the electricity before there is damage. When a circuit keeps trips, or when a fuse blow, it's a sign of trouble.

Don't try to correct the trouble with larger fuses or by tampering with fuses in any way to restore service. If, as the signs indicate, there is too much load on the circuit, the logical solution to the problem is to add more circuits to the wiring system.

More circuits are needed in many homes, Calhoun claims, because over the years more and more electrical appliances have been added. Wiring systems designed for adequate service years ago are no longer capable of bearing the load.

If you have trouble with blown fuses or tripped circuit breakers, consider expanding your wiring system by installing more circuits, Calhoun advises.

"Red Lady" Wins Top Honors At Current Horse Shows

"Red Lady" and Tim Trent had quite a time last week-end at the 36th annual Horse Show at Blowing Rock, North Carolina. On Saturday, "Red Lady", with Tim Trent riding, won the amateur walking horse class, in a large class of outstanding walking horses from some of the best stables in the South. Any horse is eligible to enter this class as long as the rider is not a paid professional trainer or rider.

On Sunday, this fine local Tennessee walking mare, with Wade Steppe up, took the Reserve Grand Championship in the Tenn. Walking Horse Division. Blowing Rock boasts of 36 consecutive shows. This show had approximately 400 horses exhibited, and there appeared to be 6000 spectators.

"Red Lady" made her first appearance in real show circles in the Greater Lynchburg Horse Show in April of this year. She took 3rd place in the Mare Class, with Wade Steppe riding. Many will remember this walking mare in the recent Appomattox Horse Show on Memorial Day, when Wade Steppe rode her to the blue in the Mare Class in the afternoon, and took the championship stake at night. On June 26th, in the Winston-Salem Show, Tim Trent rode his own horse to third place in the Amateur Class, placing under Elizabeth Anne Tood on "Big Man's Glory," and Phin Horton on Oakwood Sensation. These two horses placed 2nd and 3rd under Tim and "Red Lady" Saturday.

July 25th, this mare, with Tim up, placed third in the Amateur Class and with Wade Steppe riding took the Champion Stake at Mineral Springs, North Carolina.

This week-end Tim and "Red Lady" will be in the big 3-day Show at Lenoir, N. C. Another winner, we hope.

. . . . LaVerne Garrett

LaVerne Garrett has received word from the State Board of Education that he has been selected to receive the Granville P. Meade Scholarship. This scholarship, awarded primarily on academic achievement will provide a nice stipend per year for four years. It is a highly competitive scholarship, evidenced by the fact that only one of these awards is made in each of seven districts within the state.

La Verne plans to enroll at the University of Richmond in the fall.

Canneries Are Slow For Year

Canning of fruits and vegetables appears to be running considerably behind that of one year ago. The long May and July drought in the county seems to have cut down the early produce as evidenced by the smaller amounts being processed in the community canneries.

In the Appomattox Cannery there were only 5,838 cans put up as compared with 8,761 last July.

Canning at Pamplin was also down: 1,937 cans this year compared with 3,037 last July. Rains coming in July started crops growing and a much larger volume of produce was moving into the canneries the last of July.

Total canning at the Appomattox Cannery last year was 47,266 cans. This included 35,888 number 3 cans and quart jars, and 11,378 number 2 cans and pint jars.

The Pamplin Cannery put up 23,493 cans last season. Of these 17,965 were number 3's and quarts, and 5,528 were number 2 cans.

Both county canneries are at present open five days a week: Monday through Friday. Patrons are asked to bring their produce in in the morning and have it processed and ready to cook by 2:00 P. M.

The Pamplin Cannery should be open tomorrow after having been closed all week for repairs to boiler.

Evidently

Boss: "Jones, you disappoint me. I've been told that you were seen at a party, intoxicated, and pushing a wheelbarrow around the room."

Jones: "Why, yes, I thought you approved."

Boss: "Of course not. Why should I!"

Jones: "You were riding in the wheelbarrow."

This time next year, the nation will be in the midst of another political campaign, and there is no way to avoid it.

Appomattox is a growing town.

Demonstration Club Schedule

NEW DE & DO COORDINATOR HERE

Appomattox High School's new Co-ordinator for Distributive Education and Diversified Occupations, Mr. Fritz Brittain, was in town this week to plan his program of work for the approaching school session. Mr. and Mrs. Brittain and 14-month-old son, are presently living in Charlottesville. Mr. Brittain is a recent graduate of Lenoir College, N. C., and he is a native of that state. He succeeds Charles Wilson, who was DE and DO Coordinator here last year.

ANOTHER IFYE EXCHANGE DUE FOR VIRGINIA VISIT

Miss Maj-Kazrina Ahlsgard, a 20-year-old student from Sweden, is due in Virginia this week to begin a visit of several months with rural families.

Coming to the Old Dominion as an exchangee under the International Farm Youth Exchange plan, Miss Ahlsgard will visit first at VPI, then will go to stay at the John T. Mistr farm in Essex County. In late September she will go to Madison County.

Meanwhile, other exchangees in Virginia include Claudio Fernandez of Panama, who is now in Prince William County, and Jesus Perojo from Spain, who is now in Norfolk County.

While in Virginia, the IFYE exchangees live and work with selected rural families, taking part in community and county activities. The IFYE program is administered in the state by the VPI Agricultural Extension Service.

Now abroad under the IFYE program are Lewis Leigh, Jr., of Fairfax, visiting in Finland, Miss Angelica Simmons, of Dinwiddie, visiting in Switzerland, and Wayne Ellis, of Essex, visiting in Venezuela.

Anyone can be friendly with an individual who is friendly.

Canning of fruits and vegetables appears to be running considerably behind that of one year ago. The long May and July drought in the county seems to have cut down the early produce as evidenced by the smaller amounts being processed in the community canneries.

In the Appomattox Cannery there were only 5,838 cans put up as compared with 8,761 last July.

Canning at Pamplin was also down: 1,937 cans this year compared with 3,037 last July. Rains coming in July started crops growing and a much larger volume of produce was moving into the canneries the last of July.

Total canning at the Appomattox Cannery last year was 47,266 cans. This included 35,888 number 3 cans and quart jars, and 11,378 number 2 cans and pint jars.

The Pamplin Cannery put up 23,493 cans last season. Of these 17,965 were number 3's and quarts, and 5,528 were number 2 cans.

Both county canneries are at present open five days a week: Monday through Friday. Patrons are asked to bring their produce in in the morning and have it processed and ready to cook by 2:00 P. M.

The Pamplin Cannery should be open tomorrow after having been closed all week for repairs to boiler.

Evidently

Boss: "Jones, you disappoint me. I've been told that you were seen at a party, intoxicated, and pushing a wheelbarrow around the room."

Jones: "Why, yes, I thought you approved."

Boss: "Of course not. Why should I!"

Jones: "You were riding in the wheelbarrow."

This time next year, the nation will be in the midst of another political campaign, and there is no way to avoid it.

Appomattox is a growing town.

Booth Squeeze Uninsured

Tuscon, Ariz.- University of Arizona officials have warned students to forget about the telephone booth packing fad that's sweeping the country.

The comptroller's office explained, "Our insurance policies don't cover phone booth packing."

The More the Merrier

Nogales, Ariz.- After Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Scanlon decided to take a three-day trip to Las Vegas, they mentioned it to their friends. Everyone became enthusiastic about it. A bus was chartered, and 10 other couples came along.

Appomattox can forge ahead if local citizens work together and spend money for the common good; there's no other way.

The woods are full of Christians who have the idea that the social teachings of Jesus were meant for someone else.
